

Client Acquisition Audit: Worksheet

Mike's Exercise 1 · Cool Hollow Solutions scale-up · Due before the Tuesday, July 21 call with Mike

For every channel: a rough annual cost, the new clients it produced, and the cost per new client. Plus the referral percentage. Mike's guidance: be sensitive with money questions, ranges are fine, and estimates are fine everywhere. Flag an estimate with a ~ so we know which numbers are soft.

Table 1: Channels

Channel	Rough annual cost	New clients, last 12 mo	Whole active book (24)	Cost per new client	Notes
Networking events (incl. travel)
Boardroom	$30,000/yr	2	2	$15,000	see Table 2
LAN advisory	$57,000/yr	3	3	$19,000	see Table 2
Local		3	3		see Table 2
TSC		2	2		see Table 2
Cool Hollow mastermind (fees, venue, travel)	$5,000/yr	1	2	$5,000	+Chase Bricker, see Table 3
Referrals	~$0 hard cost	5	8	~$0	+3 older clients, see Table 3
Social media (manager cost)	$30,000/yr	0	0	n/a, no clients
Webinars (historic)
Other		0	4		2021 cohort, see Table 3

TOTAL	$122,000/yr known so far	16 named in Table 2	24, all named		excludes networking cost
-------	---------------------------	---------------------	---------------	--	--------------------------

All 24 active clients are now traced to a channel (Table 2 covers the last 12 months, Table 3 covers the other 8). Once the older clients are folded in, Mastermind and Referrals land exactly on the totals given at the start (2 and 8), the earlier last-12-mo-only counts (1 and 5) simply hadn't caught the older clients yet.

Table 2: The Last 16 New Clients, One by One

Name, month signed, source, and starting fee, all confirmed. One more, Chase Bricker (Sandy Home Buyers), signed 7/3/25, just outside the 12-month window, add it if you want it counted.

Table 3: The Other 8 Active Clients, All Sourced

16 named in Table 2 plus these 8 equals 24, the full active client count, every one now traced to a channel. These 8 signed before the last-12-month window, so they're not in Table 2.
